DEVOTED TO THE BEST INTERESTS OF THE SAN FERNANDO VALLEY

Vol. IV.

GLENDALE, LOS ANGELES COUNTY, CAL., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1908.

No. 25

AMUSEMENTS.

Glendale is certainly inhabited by an amusement loving class of people. Considering the size of our "city," not nearly so much would naturally be expected of it, as is to be found here. Music is the principal feature of the most of our public entertainments and the musical taste of our people is developing so rapidly that we shall soon have a pretty high standard. Many of the concerts given here are of really high class and it is to be hoped that the financial condition of the community will soon be such that "two bits" will not be insisted upon as the uttermost limit to the price of admission. In this connection it may be remarked that it is probably due very largely to the fact that the price of tickets to the Vernon Belton concert, two weeks ago, was placed at fifty cents, that the attendance was comparatively small. The youth has a voice of great purity and expression and with the chorus that accompanied him and the excellent performance of our promising young pianist, Miss Emma Pulliam, the attraction put the entertainment far beyond the old limit.

The musicale given last Saturday evening at the Masonic Hall, under the auspices of Unity Lodge, was a great success from every standpoint. It was the first opportunity given our people to show their appreciation of the talented professionals who live amongst us. That they did so in generous measure indicates the ability of a Glendale audience to appreciate a meritorious performance. Mr. Fordyce Hunter and Mr. Eugene Nowland are certainly artists in their profession, and their performance was heartily encored several times. Mr. Spencer Robinson and Miss Blanche Wilson also shared in the generous applause and the encores. It would be difficult to find two players each supporting the other on his favorite instrument in such perfect harmony, as do Mr. Hunter on the piano and Mr. Nowland on the violin. These gentlemen are at home in North Glendale, and it is to be hoped that our people will be given frequent opportunities for enjoying their artistic performance.

A large audience filled the Presbyterian church Friday evening of last week to listen to the numbers on the program given by Prof. Valentine, the boy violinist, Yglesias, and the orchestra which the professor has been training for some time past. The program was an attractive one and appreciated by the large number of people present.

THE NOWLAND-HUNT TRIO CONCERT.

Musical and artistic Los Angeles placed their stamp of approval upon this new organization by giving them a large and enthusiastic audience at their first concert last Monday evening in Symphony Hall, Los Angeles. This concert is the first in a series of six concerts to be given by this trio and is attracting not only the interest and attention of all music lovers in the city but also many representative out of town musicians showed their interest by attending the initial concert.

Covina, Long Beach, The Palms, Glendale, Glendora, etc., were represented.

The program opened with the beautiful D Minor trio of Mendelssohn, which gave the trio ample opportunity to demonstrate their ability both as musicians and technicians. In this number, especially, Mr. Fordyce Hunter showed his command of his instrument and his finished performance created quite a furor.

Mr. Eugene Nowland and Mr. Hunter next played the G Major Sonata of Grieg.

It was a most beautiful and musical reading of this important work. It is rare that we hear two musicians whose work is so evenly balanced in every respect. The audience demonstrated their satisfaction by recalling them four times.

The program closed with the Gade Novolletten, played with a certain verve that lent an extra charm to the beautiful music.

Los Angeles and Southern California is exceedingly fortunate in being the home of such an organization and is showing its appreciation of their splendid work by supporting them in a substantial manner.

Glendale, likewise, is proud of the fact that Messrs. Hunter and Nowland reside in the valley.

Mr. Nowland was a pupil of Wirth, Joachim and Ysaye, was concert master of the famous Ysaye orchestra in Brussels, Belgium, for several years, and was soloist with Mme. Ellen Beach Yaw last season, with whom he made his debut in Los Angeles, last spring.

Mr. Hunter was a pupil of Carl Reinecke, Jodassohn, and was prominently identified with the Royal Conservatory of Leipzig and also the Conservatory of Detroit.

Mr. Frederick S. Gutterson was a pupil of Anton Hekking of Berlin and was the most prominent cello player in San Francisco until driven away by the earthquake.

The next concert takes place Nov. 9th, at which time the following program will be given: "Trio D Minor," Schumann; "Sonata D Major," Grieg; "Trio C Minor," Foerster, an American composer.

COUNTRY CLUB NOTES.

CHINA SHOWER.

Mr. Arthur Campbell and Miss Nellie McPeak Honored.

Active members of the Woman's Auxiliary, supplemented with lots of cheerful help given by local and Los Angeles members of the Country Club, honored on Monday evening Mr. Arthur Campbell and Miss Nellie McPeak, who becomes his bride early in November.

The happy affair, congratulatory in every sense, took place in the handsome club rooms which already can lay claim to the more important of our social functions for the past year.

Mr. Campbell spent the early evening putting would-be Masons through their preliminary stunts in Los Angeles. Then he called for Miss McPeak, to take her to the home of her sister, Mrs. Daniel Campbell. En route for "Ard E'en" they were invited to "stop over" at the club and witnessed the result of the kind of "surprise" germ that gets in his best work when the "birthday" variety is taking a rest. Blessings and congratulations were poured upon the happy and really unsuspecting couple and further compliments were a most exquisite set of fine china, over one hundred pieces, and a cut-glass water bottle and glasses. The banquet was discussed while wit and poetry intermingled, and Col. Thornton, thoroughly capable and in tune with the affair, acted as toastmaster, to the great enjoyment of nearly ninety guests.

A happy thought of a bright hostess was to engage "club batchelors" as waiters, and to Prosser Penn, M. Keatinge, and Guy Rice fell awards as they acted in that capacity, as thought to the "manner-born."

Twenty tables were used for a spirited game of "Military Whist," which continues to grow in popularity in local society circles.

Mantle-piece, piano and points of advantageous decoration were fragrant with masses of red roses, and on every table there fluttered little flags, representing many nations. At the close of the contest honors were due Miss McLafferty, Mr. Richardson and Mrs. Logan, to whom handsome prizes were given. Up among the foothills, on a beautiful spot commanding a view of much of our valley, is a dear little bungalow home furnished and waiting for the home-coming of the happy and popular young couple.

BEAUTY AND HOSPITALITY.

Mrs. A. W. Dow Entertains.

The beauty of great yellow roses, the charm of fragile china and the rainbow lights of cut glass were on Wednesday accessories to the delightful, wholesome hospitality offered at high noon by Mrs. Lillian Dow, Orange street, who opened her heart and home to eight of her old-time friends to enjoy with her reminiscences of her recent Colorado trip during the discussion of six well-chosen courses, served with a daintiness and deliberation that carried the guests to mid-afternoon.

Conversation and a good game of whist then claimed the attention of guests who had discovered ere this the fact that the little celebration marked a birthday for their hostess. Those who sought their names on the handsome hand-painted place cards, done in yellow by Mrs. Helen Fraser of Lomita Park, were Mrs. Alexander Mitchell of North Glendale, Mrs. F. L. Church, Mrs. Bartlett, Mrs. Albert Dow, Mrs. Josephine Bryant, Miss Jennie Cornwell and Mrs. Hambley of Los Angeles.

SERVICES AT G. A. R. HALL.

Rev. J. W. Utter will preach on Sunday at 11 a. m., and in the evening. Mr. Utter has been preaching for several weeks with remarkable success and services may be expected as a permanency hereafter.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH.

Rev. J. F. Moody, Pastor, will preach next Sunday morning on the topic, "Receiving the Holy Spirit." Service commences at 11 o'clock. Bible school at 10 o'clock. Evening service at 7:30. Everybody welcome.

Mr. Moody's sermon last Sunday morning on the "Holy Spirit and Power," was a telling one. Some of the thoughts he expressed were as follows:

"God has established the will power of man, and He will not work over it but through it." "God has done all He can, I say reverently and advisedly, and the church must do the rest." "Half-hearted service is insulting to God—He wants the whole heart." "God speaks through testimony. If no testimony, then no power or growth of God's work." After presenting an illustration, he said, "To paint the sunrise and sunset of God's work on the hearts of men, use the palette of God's love. Power comes by combination and concentration. God's people are separated too much. Get together. With the Word of God, and the being filled with the Holy Ghost, we must have power to extend the work."

"A celebrated musician was announced at a certain place to play upon his $5000 violin. The player began his music on the violin and the vast audience were spellbound. Suddenly the instrument seemed to be out of order and the musician at once smashed the violin on the back of a chair. The audience rose indignantly at this seemingly unnecessary fit of temper. But a prominent doctor arose and addressing the people, said, 'The musician made no mistake, he merely wished you to understand that it was not the $5000 violin you enjoyed so much, but the power of the musician, for he only smashed a 64-cent violin, and he will now use the $5000 one.' The day of Pentecost the occasion for Peter, an unlettered, common fisherman, to preach a sermon under which 3000 souls were converted to God. It was by the power of the Holy Ghost. We never reach the power because we depend upon our human body, mind, etc."

You are invited to hear Mr. Moody next Sunday. Church at Third and Louise streets.

HEARTS VS. HEARTS.

As hostess of beautiful "Ard E'en" Mrs. Daniel Campbell on Saturday honored the coming marriage of her charming sister, Miss Nellie McPeak of West Eighteenth street, Los Angeles, and of her husband's brother, Mr. Arthur Campbell, with a charming heart-party, guests being friends of the young bride-to-be.

The young couple were welcomed into rooms beautiful with roses and orange blossoms which with myriads of pretty hearts lent a festive air to drawing room, reception hall and dining room.

Dainty viands, appropriate for the occasion were served at small tables in these flower-embowered rooms. Place cards were hand-painted, the design being orange blossoms minus the thorns. Souvenirs were tiny camels laden with orange buds.

The ring fell to Miss Harriet Dow and a tiny cupid to Miss May Fancel foretelling and suggesting their fate of the near future.

"Hearts" was the game indulged in and to Miss Emma Penn and Ethel Hume Flood went handsome prizes the consolation falling to Miss Jane McPeak. One of the pleasures was a visit to the bungalow home near "Ard E'en," being prepared for the bride.

Among the guests were Misses Irene Ward, Austine George, Emma W. Williams, Ethel H. Flood, Miss Cora Hickman, Harriet Dow, Emma Penn, Lorraine Mitchell, Anita Wells, Bob Valentine, Freda Borthick, Miss Dick Sarah McLane, May Fancel, and Nellie, Janie, Elizabeth, Mary and Louise McPeak.

The affair was one of several planned for Miss McPeak, who is very popular among young society people in Glendale and Los Angeles.

SEWING BEE AT MRS. E. K. GRANT'S.

An all-day quilting bee was held on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. E. K. Grant, Kenwood street, workers being members of Ladies' Aid society of First Methodist church. At noon a warm dinner was served. There was a good attendance and a fine amount of work was accomplished. While happy conversation was indulged in all day long it never interfered in the least with needles, thimbles and scissors.

Changed

The date of the next regular dance at Tropico has been changed from Friday night, to Tuesday night, October 20th. The music at these dances is the very best to be had in Los Angeles.

Local Happenings

Mr. Gustav Schwemer, of Verdugo road, is home from a two months' trip to the east.

Several little dances are scheduled to take place in the near future for members and their families.

Mr. C. Hilding, of Lomita Park, proposes leaving Glendale about Nov. 1st to engage in ranching near Covina.

Mr. J. M. Freeman, of the Boulevard Barber shop, who has been laid up for ten days with an attack of sciatica, is now on duty.

Mrs. A. D. McCoy, Third street had a called meeting of committees from the Workers' Society, Tuesday afternoon.

The W. F. M. society of the M. E. church will meet at the home of Mrs. Harri on Cedar street, on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Miss Margaret M. Fette, identified with the Women's Parliament and Women's club work spent Wednesday at "The Priory," the guest of Mrs. Edgar W. Pack.

A good time is already planned for Country Club members for Halloween. Among the pranks will be included a "Doming Party" and sheets and pillow-cases will be very much in evidence.

Miss Lena Scott and Miss Eunice Parker were recent guests of Mrs. C. E. Williams at the "Bungle-O," Cedar street. Miss Berenice Williams spent the week end in Los Angeles the guest of Miss Parker, formerly of Frankfort, Mich.

Friends of Anna Woodberry, and they are many, particularly in the High School, will regret to learn that he has been ill for the past week and is at present receiving treatment at the excellent care which the Sanitarium affords.

At the Presbyterian church the topic of the morning sermon will be: "The Problem That Daniel Could not Solve." The song service will begin at 7:30 p. m. and continue for twenty minutes, followed by the sermon on the subject of "Tale-bearing."

Dan Campbell, of the First National Bank, went north on Sunday to San Francisco, as the representative of Unity Lodge, F. & A. M., to the Grand Lodge, which convenes there this week. Before returning he will visit his brother, the doctor, near Monterey.

Mrs. C. Case, who has been stopping with her daughter, Mrs. H. D. Brown, on Chestnut street, has decided to make her permanent home in Glendale. She has purchased the corner formerly owned by J. J. Bartholomew and wife, on Central avenue.

The Pacific Electric cars now stop at Fifth street, which is an accommodation for the residents on and near that thoroughfare. What seems to be most needed, however, is an additional car between 5:30 and 6:00 p. m. Standing room only is the rule on the car leaving at 5:30.

The Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian church will give a swap social on Oct. 29th from 2 to 5 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Albright on Orange street near Third. Each guest is invited to bring a dime and a package. The package to be exchanged for another. A good time is assured. Everybody invited.

Little children of the L. T. L. met on Thursday in the Methodist church parlors and were amused and instructed along temperance lines by Mrs. Wood and Mrs. Quackenbush. The little "Standard Bearers" are instructed by Mrs. Ed Lee and the local branch is full of interest and good work.

J. A. Eppinger, the real estate dealer, has sold the Rancho Prado at Casa Verdugo, formerly owned by R. L. Krueger, to Mrs. Minna Schroeder of Davenport, Ia. Consideration, $11,500. The ranch comprises ten acres and has 500 orange trees and a variety of other fruits. There is a fine house on the ranch, also barns and pumping plant.

The Presbyterian Brotherhood last Tuesday evening was addressed by two young men from the Fisherman's Club of Los Angeles. Mr. Barrett, a member of the First M. E. church, and Mr. Wallace, of Immanuel Presbyterian, were the speakers. The addresses were full of interest. It is one of the hopeful signs of the time to find young laymen taking an interest in soul winning and the necessary knowledge therefor.

Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Lakin, relatives of Mrs. J. C. Danford, whom she has been entertaining, have returned to Bisbee, Ariz., where they had formerly spent five months. Their home is Vandalla, which is eight miles from the early childhood home of Miss Cora Hickman, who very charmingly entertained Mrs. Lakin. The inevitable talk about "the old folks at home" resulted in a most delightful visit. Those who met Mrs. Lakin earnestly desire her to return sometime for a longer visit. Mr. Lakin for years was editor of the Vandalla News. They were delighted with California, especially this important part of it, and predict for us a very bright future.

Funniest thing you ever saw, "Union Depot," Nov. 7th.

We understand that through the good offices of the Presbyterian Brotherhood the citizens of Glendale are to have the pleasure and privilege of listening to such music as is seldom heard in the smaller cities. The Williams' Jubilee Singers have been engaged and will sing in the Masonic hall the evening of Dec. 16th. This attraction, which has been heard in Los Angeles with the highest satisfaction at the Simpson Auditorium, consists of a double quartet possessing the beautiful African voices with the highest training, and will render a program of rare refinement and merit.

Though December 16th seems a long way off it will soon be here and we make this early mention of the concert that the date may be reserved.

The election will be over. Be prepared to enjoy the "Union Depot," Nov. 7th.

RECEPTION FOR DR. J. F. HUMPHREY.

On Wednesday evening there took place in the First Methodist church a rousing welcome and reception for the new pastor, Dr. J. F. Humphrey, his wife and three charming daughters, Miss Helen, Francis and little baby Bethel. Baptists and Presbyterians were very plentiful throughout the large congregation of Methodists come to honor their new spiritual leader, as well as many others known as friends and patrons of the church.

Preceding the social hour set for introductions was a short and felicitous program. Fairly cosmos tanked the rostrum and back of all hung the stars and stripes, bespeaking the close connection between religion and true patriotism as recognized in this church.

Miss Lillian Ward gave the organ voluntary, followed by prayer by Dr. S. L. Ward of First Presbyterian church. Musical numbers following were: "O Fair, O Sweet and Holy," Mr. E. E. Russell, tenor; violin solo, Master Julius Kranz, Miss Katherine Lennox accompanist; "Face to Face," contralto solo, Miss Katherine Reeves.

"Words of Welcome" were spoken by Rev. Ellis, who concluded his address by the hearty call for congregational singing of an old favorite hymn.

Rev. Moody, new pastor of the Baptist church, brought smiles to every face as hearts responded to his happy greeting, and welcome "to all the joys incumbent upon the call, and to all the criticisms as well, including a "spreading" invitation, much appreciated by pastor and audience alike.

The pastor responded feelingly with a few well-chosen words. At least, he said he did, though it was very hard to find "well-chosen" words when one had spent a week with his head in packing boxes.

However "the sample" took well and Dr. Humphrey succeeded in keeping his audience on the delightful plane whereon Rev. Moody had lifted it.

When he had finished with earnest desire to be of use to all of beautiful Glendale, to all denominations represented, to any whom he could help or befriend, Dr. Humphrey had succeeded in "placing" himself, not only in the Methodist heart, but of Glendale as well. Henceforth, at least for a year, he is one of us.

Heads-of societies and of various departments planned and helped at the reception. They were, The Ladies' Aid, Mrs. M. I. Remsburg; Epworth League, Mr. L. E. Brockman; Home Missionary, Mrs. M. E. Brown; Foreign, Mrs. Hendershott; Official Board, Mr. Kober; Stewards, Mr. Lennox; Sabbath School, Mayor Thomas Watson and Francis Hendershott; Brotherhood, Charles Birkitt; others were Lillian Ward and Josephine Byrkit. Fruitade was served during the social hour.

Great doings at the "Union Depot," Nov. 7th. Don't fail to be there.

UNIQUE PARTY AT CASA VERDUGO.

Under the old pepper tree at Casa Verdugo was given on Saturday, October 10th, by Mrs. Charels A. Sowl a most unique banquet in honor of her nephew Lionel Martinez, it being his third birthday.

The table was arranged in banquet style with Mexican poppies and red carnations for decorations. At each plate was a place card and a tiny pink basket filled with candies.

The guests were all about Lionel's age. After the repast Clinton Steele (4 years old) sang San Antonio, and Lionel sang La Paloma and El Trabuco, much to the delight of the other guests.

Seated around the festal board were Misses Catherine Campbell, Elizabeth Sternberg, Janet Wilson, Elizabeth Dinsmore, Honorina Yorba, Rosemary Harasta, Louise Stadler; Master Jack Early, Bessie Dinsmore, Roy Lowe, Clinton Steele, Frank England, Harry Stadler, Rowland Wilson, Bernardo Yorba, Lionel Martinez.

The service was looked after in an able manner by the following young folks: Marion Dinsmore, Frank Stadler, Ernesto Martinez, Barbara Mitchell, Rosalie England and Viola Yorba.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

The total enrollment is now 139. New pupils enrolled are Miss Frances Humphrey, Miss Susie Robinson, Miss Ellis Tipton, from the Monrovia High, and Miss Utter of the Los Angeles High. There has been some talk of changing the school colors, as so many other schools have those in use at present—red and white—but no definite action has been taken. Miss Adeline Thompson has been compelled to leave the school by the removal of her family to Arizona on account of her father's health.

The Boys' Basket Ball team plays the South Pasadena team on the Glendale grounds this afternoon, at two o'clock. This will not be a league game, but the boys are anxious to win just the same. It promises to be a good game as the South Pasadena boys put up a strong fight usually.

THE NEW RAILROAD.

Good progress is being made in the collection of the required bonus for the road connecting Glendale with Eagle Rock and Los Angeles, the greater portion of it having been secured. Of course, it is always the latter part of work of this kind that is most difficult, still there does not seem to be any reasonable doubt but that the amount will be secured before the time limit expires. For the benefit of any who imagine that this road or any other will be built in the near future without a bonus it may be stated that in the event of this bonus not being secured, all rights of way will lapse and the whole project will be "off," and the results of such an ending of the project may be imagined, if not described.

REPUBLICAN MEETING TONIGHT.

The people of Glendale will have an opportunity this evening of hearing the Hon. Lee Gates discuss the issues of the campaign at Odd Fellows Hall. Mr. Gates is an eloquent speaker. He was a prominent member of the Lincoln-Roosevelt Republican League and could have had the backing of that organization for nominee for Congress, but declined to accept. Everybody who wishes to hear an eloquent and logical discussion of the candidates and principles of the two parties from a Republican standpoint, should avail themselves of this opportunity.

BUNCH OF BIRTHDAYS.

Still they come, and Glendale keeps right on getting older. This time six birthdays, a round half dozen, were duly celebrated and observed in the home of Dr. A. E. Bryant. Mrs. Henry Johnston and Mrs. Bryant acted as hostesses. The birthday feast was spread at six o'clock and honor guests were the Bryant twins, Hugh and Deane; Gilbert Emery, Juanita Emery, Miss Charlotte Blaisdell and Mr. Johnston. Congratulations, gifts and blossoms were accessories to the spread.

Be at the "Union Depot," Nov. 7th, at 8 p. m. sharp.

We will consent to extend for a few weeks longer the time within which we will publish free of charge offers from philanthropic citizens to donate land or dollars for a city park.

Hollywood is discussing the vexed question of neglected lots and parkways. It is encouraging to know that our charming neighbor across the river has troubles of her own quite similar to ours.

Judge C. F. McNutt asserts that Bryan is the greatest man the world has seen for five hundred years. "This is an error," the Judge forgot Jim Jeffries, Buffalo Bill and well there have been others!

Now that Austria and Bulgaria are making faces at each other, we can refer again to that famous example of altercation:

"An Austrian army awfully arrayed Boldly by battle besieged Belgrade."

They think that the missing link has been discovered in the shape of a recently captured ape that is in possession of the New York Zoo. A Harvard professor who has studied the language of apes, has been sent for to interview him. Interesting disclosures are expected.

The Duke of Abruzzi seems to be a pretty good fellow, but finds his title an incumbrance now that he wants to marry an American girl. He had better sell it, buy a monkey and a hand organ, marry Miss Elkins and grow up with the country as some others of his countrymen do.

In Naugatuck, Conn., a few Sundays ago, a citizen was arrested for kissing his wife in the public street and on application of an almost forgotten "Blue law" of the Nutmeg state, was fined twenty dollars for "disturbing the peace." Evidently he made a mistake. He might have kissed his neighbor's wife and saved good money.

KICK.

Glendale will never be recognized as a real city until we have a municipal scandal. City affairs are going along with monotonous smoothness and regularity. Some time ago we tried to establish a kickers' column to register the complaints of the populace, but it fell to pieces through lack of patronage. Surely there must be something wrong with our city government somewhere. "Graft" is the keynote of the universal chorus at the present time. Is Glendale hot to be up to the times? City trustees, it is up to you. Do something desperate and disreputable—we want to expose it!

POLITICAL CANDIDATES AFIELD.

The NEWS office had a very pleasant call last Saturday from Mr. Anthony Schwamm, Democratic candidate for supervisor in this district. Mr. Schwamm is a good campaigner and creates a favorable impression. He was accompanied by Senator Cartwright of Fresno, Richmond Plant, Arthur Fava, Joseph Simons and Hugh K. Hartung of the Herald. The party were in a big automobile making a rush campaign through the valley and held an open air meeting at the corner of Fourth and Glendale Avenue. Later in the day the reporter encountered Mr. R. W. Pridham, the Republican candidate for supervisor, who was on his return from a hurried visit to Monte Vista. Voters must take to the woods early in the day if they hope to escape office seekers these days.

THE COURSE OF EMPIRE.

It was fifty years or more ago that Bishop Berkeley uttered the phrase "Westward the Star of Empire takes its way," and westward the star has been moving ever since. In the greater portion of the world this trend westward is noticeable, the exception being in that portion which for ages has been the antipodes of the civilized portions of the earth, the eastern shores of Asia. The greatest cities of Europe are in the west and the great cities of the Eastern part of our own country are largely the result of the constant pushing toward the westward of the population of Europe. The geographical center of population is gradually but surely moving westward in the United States. That it could ever get anywhere near the center of the continent has, until recently, been generally considered impossible, but the development of that region by means of the irrigation schemes projected on such a vast scale in various sections of the "arid West," renders it possible that before the end of the century the center of our population may be anywhere west of the Rocky mountains. California gives ample evidence of the possibilities of populous deserts. Five years ago the Imperial valley was known only by the distinction accorded to it on the maps as being "below sea level." In this brief period of time it has been made one of the garden spots of the state, the products of which are measured by trainloads, and its people have established a county with a population of several thousand. No art of men yet discovered can make that section popular as a summer resort, but the means of transportation have been developed to such perfection that it has proved practicable for the settlers to step on board swift moving passenger trains and escape during the summer season to that portion of the country a few hours distant where the ocean breezes make living a delight. And right on the edge of this cooling coast sits Los Angeles, offering hospitality to the world. No other city in the Union can equal its record of growth for the past thirty years. In 1880 the population, in round numbers, was 11,000. In 1890 it had increased to 43,000, at the end of the next decade to 104,000. The greatest of the optimists thought then that the rates of increase could not possibly continue during the next decade, but at this time with two years remaining of that period, the city of Los Angeles has between 250,000 and 300,000 people within its limits! While the rest of the country has not been able to keep up this tremendous pace except in spots, its growth and development have been sufficiently phenomenal. Great enterprises, such as the Panama Canal, the Owens River aqueduct, the dredging out of a channel to connect San Pedro and Long Beach and the multiplication of existing miles of electric roads to the suburbs and to other cities which they will bring close to hand, all of these factors are promising to make good another decade, at least, the ratio of growth established by the past twenty years of our history.

In the meantime what will Glendale be doing? We have doubled our population during the past two years. In two years more the government census taken will count our people—we put the number to be found then within our present city limits at 5000. This is conservative. We should be glad to have some guesses from our correspondents.

BRYAN AND BUSINESS.

However devoted the average man may be to a theory that promises to regenerate his neighbors and the rest of the world, it is rarely that he cannot find some means for deserting it, some loophole of retreat, when it threatens to cost him something. There are, no doubt, thousands of voters in the United States who would like to see what Mr. Bryan would do in the position of president of the United States, and who would be glad to vote for him if they were not in their own minds assured that his election would mean a paralysis of business throughout the country. This is, of course, taking a selfish view of a serious question, but human beings are essentially selfish in their nature and politics is not a question of ethics but of practical everyday affairs affecting our material interests.

The number of voters who would support Mr. Bryan but refrain from doing so for fear of the effect of his election upon business, is offset, however, by the class of citizens who possess no property, are directly interested in no business and who would like to experiment in government at the expense of their neighbors. It should require no argument to convince the thoughtful mind that the election of William J. Bryan as president would result immediately in putting a stop to all projected enterprises of any considerable magnitude in the United States. For months capital has been halting, but hopeful; it has been gradually moving forward recently in the channels of trade, but not with the vigorous impulse of normal health. Even this latter movement would in all probability not have occurred except for a belief that the election of Mr. Bryan is scarcely a possibility. Numerous reports have recently been given of contracts being let with a clause providing that they should be void in the event of the success of the Democratic candidate. The business interests of the country at large are naturally allied with the Republican party, as for a period of twelve years the policy of that party has made possible a development of our material interests to an extent unprecedented in our history. It is futile for the opponents of that party's policy to assert that it has created "trusts" and "monopolies," admitting for the purpose of argument only that this is true, it must follow that not only the larger, but the smaller capitalists have added to their earnings in unprecedented proportions. The great middle class has prospered as never before and the wage earner has been reasonably sure of his work and wages. The farmers who, twelve years ago were mortgaged almost beyond hope while an era of low prices prevailed, have paid off their mortgages and have in the savings banks a sum of money to their credit which certainly does not indicate a poverty-stricken condition, and their products continue in demand at fair prices. The panic of a year ago has passed into history, pricking many bubbles of "frenzied finance," but leaving the country at large but little the worse for its effects.

It is uncertainty that paralyzes business. Should it be discovered on Nov. 4 next that William J. Bryan had been elected president of the United States, it might not precipitate a panic, but within 24 hours the business barometers of every kind would indicate a widely extended area of depression, which would not be relieved for many months to come. No message that he might deliver would reassure the people who want to know upon what basis the commercial structure rests, for neither Mr. Bryan nor the wisest statesman of the land would be able to forecast the immediate future. Free trade, free silver, government ownership and a host of other hobgoblins would loom up forebodingly in the horizon, not as things assured but merely as portentous possibilities almost as fatal as the grim reality.

Look out for the "Union Depot," Nov. 7th.

THE HILL STREET TUNNEL.

This great subway of the Los Angeles Pacific Railway company is making rapid progress. When completed it will be 1478 feet long in two sections of 924 and 554 feet respectively. It was commenced on the 6th of July of this year, and already 675 feet in length has been excavated. The boring will be completed about Feb. 1, 1909, a progress of ten feet a day being the average rate. The tunnel will be wide enough to accommodate two railway tracks—that is, 28 feet wide, and 22 feet from the center of the roof to the floor. Taking into consideration the size of the excavation the rate of progress is remarkable. The formation is a soft shale, and easily penetrated, but the tonnage of "muck" or dirt, is very great.

The tunnel is being built on the principle adopted in the construction of a 12-mile tunnel through a portion of Mt. Cenis, Italy, and will be the first one to be completed in the United States. The sides and overhead work are all completed before the core is removed. Drifts seven feet high and five feet two and one-half inches wide are excavated on either side of the tunnel and after braces are set a drift is dug for the overhead, forming a key to the arch, the dimensions being 8.6 feet high and 6.6 feet wide. The brick work and concrete is then set and after it has been thoroughly tested the core is taken out.

To the spring line on either side of the tunnel concrete walls eight feet high and three feet thick are set, forming a substantial foundation for the arch which has a radius of 14 feet. The arch is built of hard pressed brick, with a thickness of six rings and being laid in hydraulic cement. The floor of the tunnel is of concrete formation and a foot thick.

The tunnel extends on Hill street from First street north to Sunset boulevard.

A second and much longer subway will be started upon the completion of the first, extending from Fourth and Hill west to Vermont avenue. This tunnel will be much longer than the first, being between two and three miles in length, and will require two or three years to complete.

It will shorten the time from the center of the city to Santa Monica about 20 minutes, and will be a great advantage to Hollywood, Colegrove and all the northwestern section of the city.—N. W. Enterprise.

BUSINESS REMOVAL.

We understand that Mr. W. B. Buck is to move his grocery store from its present location on Glendale avenue, north of Third street, to the corner of Third and Glendale, the old Glendale Grocery stand.

LAYS OF A QUIET TOWN.

Lay of the Layer.

Why does the layer not lay?
Oh say!
If you were a bard in this sleepy old town
I suppose you would serve it up properly brown
Every day!

You'd attend every banquet, prayer meeting and ball,
You'd lunch at the "festive board,"
You'd sleep at the hall,
You might miss your meals, but never a function,
There'd be no way to stop you save by an injunction.

On Monday you'd go to the latest "surprise,"
To a fancy ball Tuesday in wondrous disguise,
On Wednesday to master its intricate features,
You'd view the ball game from your place on the bleachers!

On Thursday you'd list to the mid-week's short sermon,
Which might be to your spirit like dew fall on Hermon,
Or—perish the thought—might prove soporific
And of thoughts all-inspiring be not too prolific.

On Friday eat fish, and a banquet attend,
Or a wedding perhaps at the call of a friend,
Or a function of some sort where never a question
Be raised that would palliate mortal digestion.

On Saturday, basket ball, base ball or tennis,
All hope of a rest day your person would menace,
And when in the evening all else you might dodge
They "phone you that this is "the night for the lodge."

Then Sunday comes round, blessed day of repose,
And you go to the beach—for the tan on your nose!
So the layer might lay and the wide world be dazzled,
But the layer himself would be frizzled and frazzled!

ASTROLOGY.

By Professor Lombroso Spaghetti

Hearken mortals to my lay—
Night most always follows day,
And if you would now succeed,
Follow closely where I lead.

The moon is eighteen days old. Scientists of the old school who claim that it is a section of the earth and, therefore, of the same age as this planet, have been misled by failing to consult the almanac and these articles. An additional chasm, visible in the lower left hand corner of the Moore's physiognomy, is noticeable under the influence of the sixth glass. Beware of sleeping when the face is exposed to the moon's rays; several cases are on record where the victim has died some time after doing this. Moonlight strolls should be avoided until the moon is older; an eighteen-day moon lacks discretion and has been known to make embarrassing disclosures. This is a good time to plant moon flowers. They should not be planted in the moon in its present phase, however, better success will be secured by starting them on the earth; the same precaution should be observed in regard to other crops. The almanacs are misleading in this respect. It is not necessary to follow closely their instructions to "plant corn in this moon, etc." It will do just as well planted in other moons. The moons of Jupiter, for instance, have been greatly neglected by the agriculturist, and yet as I have shown conclusively in my popular work on "The Agricultural Possibilities of Jupiter," the soil there is much more prolific than that on the earth's satellite.

The sun continues to be the central object in the heavens. A new spot has been discovered on its surface and is supposed to be grease, but this cannot be determined by the naked eye. Sunstroke at this season of the year should be avoided as liable to prove unwholesome. It can be avoided by wearing a lightning rod or refraining from exposure between sunrise and sunset. This precaution need not be observed on the first day of the week. Sunshine is used to dispel darkness and for other purposes, among which may be mentioned the assistance given to the seller of sunshades and sundials. A man once succeeded in bottling sunshine; but died in the act and afterwards forgot just how he did it. A child born on Sunday need not refrain from labor on that day because it has all the rest of the week.

Reader, pause before you go:
Ponder Wisdom's precepts all,
Remember that I told you so
Whatever in the end befall!

THE CONTEST IN THE FIFTH SUPERVISORIAL DISTRICT

Some Information for Voters—The Two Candidates and what They Stand For

The Fifth Supervisorial district of this county comprises the First and Eighth wards of Los Angeles City with South Pasadena, North Pasadena, La Canyada, Glendale, Tropic, San Fernando, Sunland, Burbank, Lancaster, Ivanho and all the northern part of the county. The First ward comprises East Los Angeles, Highland Park, Garvanza, etc. The Eighth ward is that portion of the city bounded by upper Main street, the Los Angeles river and First street. The First ward is strongly Republican and the Eighth is strongly Democratic. To one familiar with the city, this means that the breweries, the saloon element, and the people interested directly in the disreputable resorts that are so numerous in that section of the city comprising the "Bloody Eighth," for some reason satisfactory to themselves can always be relied upon to support the candidates of the Democratic party.

On the other hand it is also an indisputed fact that that portion of the First ward in which the majority of the voters are found, can be relied upon to support the Republican ticket.

There is a minority section of this ward, however, that is Democratic, and it can be recognized at a glance; it is where the breweries are located and the shacks and saloons most numerous. This district is represented on the board of supervisors at present by Mr. C. R. Patterson, the chairman of the board now near the completion of his second term. The two principal candidates aspiring to the position are Anthony Schwamm, Democrat and R. W. Pridham, Republican; one or the other of them will be elected to serve for a term of four years at the election on the 3d of November. It is the most important office in the county although the incumbents receive only a salary of $150 per month, with $25 a month extra for mileage, to cover their traveling expenses when going over their districts. It is said that the office is worth a very large sum of money to any one filling the position who has an elastic conscience.

This can readily be believed when one considers the tremendous responsibilities resting upon the board of supervisors, and the interest which railroad and other corporations and large business concerns generally, have in their actions. They fix the tax rate; but, more important than this, they take upon themselves every year the responsibility of cutting down the assessment levied by the assessor upon the large corporations doing business in the county. It rests with them to say whether saloons shall be granted licenses or not and consequently their action may be of great importance to the brewery and liquor interests. They sell the bond issues of the county and let numerous contracts. They manage the county farm, the hospital and other public institutions. Under their direction large sums of money are expended on public roads. Indeed the importance of the work they have to do can scarcely be exaggerated. As far as his vote directly affects his interests, the taxpayer of the county can well afford to neglect voting for any of the other candidates for office, from presidential elector down, if only on such conditions could he be allowed to vote for supervisor. Voters who have the welfare of the county at heart, cannot afford to be careless in making a decision as to which candidate they will support. They should not decide the matter on party lines, either, as the question of political affiliation plays a very unimportant part on the board of supervisors. Mr. Pridham was nominated in a manner that left him perfectly free and independent; he did not seek the office, but was selected on account of his well-proved high character and reputation among the best business men in Los Angeles. He has a record of doing things for the public good and doing them energetically and well.

Mr. Schwamm is said to be a "good fellow;" he does business in the Eighth ward and is the kind of a politician that is popular there; he represents its peculiar interests and will carry it by a large majority. These "interests" are working hard to elect him. The country precincts are being canvassed assiduously and money being spent liberally for that purpose. There seems to be no large and peculiar interests behind Mr. Pridham except the interests of the Good Citizenship. He has proved his ability as a business man and a public-spirited citizen. Mr. Schwamm, to offset this, has a record as a glad-hand Eighth ward politician, backed by the brewery and liquor interests and other forces which do not have the highest ideals of citizenship. If it could be granted for the sake of argument, that the men are of equal ability, integrity and reputation, the voter honestly desirous of doing his duty as a good citizen on election day, would look at the forces behind the two candidates, and regardless of any question of party affiliation, cast his vote for R. W. Pridham.

A NATIONAL AWAKENING TO THE NEED OF FOREST PRESERVATION.

"In the last ten years," says the Yearbook of the Department of Agriculture for 1907, "forestry has advanced in this country from an almost unknown science to a useful growing profession. In that time the number of technically trained foresters has increased from less than a dozen to over 400. Ten years ago there was not a single forest school in the country; now there are several professional forest schools which rank with those of Europe, and a score more with courses in elementary forestry whose usefulness is steadily growing. Forest lands under management have grown from one or two tracts to many, aggregating 7,503,000 acres, scattered through 39 states. The National forests have increased from 39,000,000 acres, practically unused and unprotected, to 165,000,000 acres, used, guarded, and improved both in productivity and accessibility. The number of states which have state forests has increased from one to ten; and of those which employ trained foresters from none to eleven. The membership of forest associations has increased from 3600 to 15,800. Ten years ago, except for a few of the foremost botanists, European foresters knew more about American forests than did the people of this country. In Europe they were then using preservatives to prolong the service of beech trees, and so adding from twenty to forty years to their life. Here on the other hand, scarcely a treated tree had been laid, though there are now sixty treating plants, twenty-seven of which treat trees exclusively, and an engineer who recently returned from Europe reports that both in size and mechanical perfection the treating equipment of this country is ahead of any to be found abroad.

"And yet American forestry has only safely passed the experimental stage and got ready to do something. Action, immediate and vigorous, must be taken if the inevitable famine of wood supplies is to be lessened. We are now using as much wood in a single year as grows in three, with only twenty years' supply of virgin growth in sight. Only the application of forest knowledge with wisdom, method and energy in the next ten years can prevent the starving of national industries for lack of wood.

"California tanbark oak, hitherto considered of principal value for the tannin in its bark, has been found through timber tests to be suitable for cooperage and wagon manufacture. In strength it compares favorably with eastern oaks and hickory. Eucalyptus planting has been given much attention in California. The interior of one of the largest buildings in Los Angeles was finished in eucalyptus imported from Australia at $250 a thousand board feet. This tree grows very rapidly, and is especially adapted to that region. Four companies have been formed which will plant in the aggregate several thousand acres with eucalyptus. It is with this tree that the Santa Fe railway is planting 8650 acres near San Diego to test its suitability for the production of ties.

"Prominent among the projects carried forward by the state forester of California was the publication of a comprehensive bulletin on the commercial production of eucalyptus. Preservative treatments of cedar, pine, and fir ties and poles, conducted in cooperation with the forest service at Los Angeles, showed that a 40-foot pole, worth $7.50, can be preserved with creosote at a cost of $2 so as to secure additional service worth several times the additional cost. The state fire patrol was materially strengthened.

DO YOU KNOW CALIFORNIA.

Few realize the immensity of the fruit industry and other products of the soil of California, and many will be surprised to learn that last season's products amounted to 5,560,000 cases, or 133,440,000 cans of fruit, valued at $10,000,000; raisins 140,000,000 pounds; dried fruits 254,375,000 pounds; figs, 6,000,000 pounds; prunes, 180,000,000 pounds; oranges, 30,000 cars, $20,000,000; olives, 750,000 gallons, $425,000; olive oil, 200,000 gallons, $500,000; walnuts, 14,000,000 pounds, $1,750,000; celery, 3,000 cars; cabbage, 500 cars; cauliflower, 350 cars; beet sugar, 163,800,000 pounds; butter, 6,000,000 pounds; grain yield, $50,000,000. The bulk of the mustard is raised in California. In Santa Barbara county alone 3,000 acres are devoted to it.

THE GUARANTEE OF BANK DEPOSITS.

Editor News:

Guarantee of bank deposits seems in the coming campaign to be a leading issue; already the success of the Oklahoma guarantee deposit has attracted general attention, and the recent financial disturbance demands an interest in a more permanent and solid trustworthy banking system, in the interest of successful business. For twelve years there has been a public clamor for a "postal savings bank," and so strong was the pressure in this direction that the Republican platform at that time promised its influence in that direction, to secure the money of the poor, and make the public more secure in its deposits; the increased number of bank failures since has added to the public interest in more conservative and secure banks, for some law protecting the business interest of our country. Not only has the need been felt by the depositors, but the banking interests are waking up to the fact that the deposit must be made secure if they are to be able to carry on business in times of business flurry and general depletion. As an evidence of this interest by the banks we see the concerted action of the banks in Chicago, when one of the largest and most patronized banks two years ago went to the wall due to poor if not criminal management. Through the clearing houses the principal banks undertook to secure the deposits for this bank and promised the depositors to save them from loss. What was this for? Not from any sympathy for the depositor, nor yet from the pity felt for the public, as one of them has declared, but solely for protection of the business interests and to enhance the confidence of the public in the banks, as doing a safe and secure business. This bank also stated publicly that the bank failures of a few years before this had done the business so much harm that the banks could well have afforded to have carried the deposits for the public rather than have suffered the business reverse they had due to such failures and the loss of confidence thereby engendered. We here see that for the interest of business and especially the banking interest, the guarantee bank is becoming most popular.

Again we would ask for what was all the legal holidays last year and the bank issues of scrip? To protect the depositor? It would seem not. But to save to the bank its credit that this was done, although since declared to have been illegal, is it not most time something is done to save the business of our country and protect the public from panics and wanton speculation? It is not wonderful that the banks as well as the public are clamoring for some security from disaster in times of business depression.

At first thought it was the public impression that the guarantee deposit was solely for the depositor, but upon careful consideration and study we find it is quite as much to the interest of bank protection as for the public. A leading banker in a paper on bank deposits makes the statement that the total banking power of the United States stockholders of banks have invested is less than three billion dollars, while the depositors have in the banks on deposit twelve billion dollars—four times as much as the stockholders themselves have invested. Can the business of the banks afford to ignore this capital, or allow it to be insecure? This is a momentous question to the banking interests as well as to the public, and such a statement coming from a banker we feel that it must have weight. Again to quote from this banker's paper before the convention, he says and most sensibly that in the interest of business security that it is far preferable to pay the guarantee deposit tax, rather than allow the establishment of a government postal savings bank, for in such an event much of the deposits now in the commercial banks for business and in circulation would go to the postal bank and thus to the government vaults, thus taking this amount of capital from commerce and tying it up in the government vaults. He, in a comparison of our banking system with that of older nations makes this favorable comment, viz.: that the United States is little over one century old, and yet it has forty-two per cent. of the banking power of the entire world. It has a banking power of sixteen billions as against twenty-two billions of all the rest of the world, and adds when you near an American or any one criticizing our banking system and suggesting some old world system, such as asset currency or branch banking, please point to the above record.

The more we study this protection of the bank deposit the more confident are we that it must come, for with such a guarantee we can have no more financial panics in America. Why? Because we are a producing country. We do not have to look to any other country for our living, our money, or our clothing. We owe no other nation. We have had no dis-ted, either famine, war or pestilence. I say for such a nation to be in financial straits is nothing short of an admission of financial inefficiency, bad management or wanton extravagance, hence with a "bank guarantee deposit" written over, our banks you can inscribe under it in indelible lines, "confidence restored."

This was the political war cry twelve years ago, "Only give us confidence," we are all right, but with banks failing daily money behind the bars, and business at a standstill, no money in circulation to do business with, pray tell us how confidence is to be restored. Confidence had lost its hold and had nothing to preserve it, but secure to the bank the guaranteed deposits, as much for the bank as for the protection of the depositor and protection of the public, and again I say you may rest assured confidence being restored business will not halt, and we shall not have to call on the government for safety in our deposits. Let us thus place all our banks on a permanent and secure business basis by securing a guarantee of all deposits.

NEW THEORY OF LIGHT.

(Written for The News.)

To be called on to abandon a certain belief entertained as a fact from childhood to old age, is disquieting to the average person. This contingency, however, is constantly the lot of earnest truth-seekers, and, compelled by the advance of knowledge resulting from the labors of thousands of skillful and fearless investigators all over the world, patiently and untiringly scanning the face of nature, we must ever be ready to readjust our ideas of all and everything under the sun. There is no finality about human knowledge, and what we have regarded all our lives as a fact may tomorrow seem quite doubtful and the day after prove wholly unworthy our belief. Many instances of such changes might be cited, but probably the very latest case refers to a new theory of light, which though not exactly a return to Newton's corpuscular theory, may certainly be described as a modification of it. It will be remembered that the corpuscular theory of light supposed that minute particles of brilliant matter were darted out from the sun in all directions.

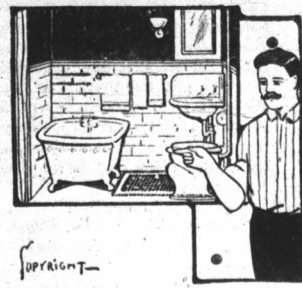

The undulatory theory, on the other hand, supposed that light is the result of waves or undulations set up by the sun and propagated in all directions through an elastic medium called ether, supposed to pervade all space. The latter theory has held sway since Newton's time, about two hundred years, and seemed to satisfy most of the observed phenomena of light. There are, however, a few well-known mysteries which continue to evade solution, as for instance, the aurora borealis, the Zodiacal light, the glow of distant nebulae, and the wonderful streams of light thrown out by comets on their approach to the sun. None of these phenomena can be explained by the undulatory theory. The merit of the new theory lies in its apparent ability to account for these, and all the other known phenomena of light as well. This theory is known as the theory of light-pressure, and although it has been before the scientific world for some time, and results from the recent wonderful discoveries in Radio-activity, it has only lately received serious endorsement by a few of the leading scientists of Europe and America. Its chief exponent is Professor Evante Arrhenius, of the University of Stockholm, in Sweden, who has been conducting a series of refined and elaborate experiments and calculations in co-operation with other well-known scientists. The investigation is still in progress and is as yet far from complete, and at the present date the results established are too technical for presentation in popular form. The whole subject is very complex and difficult, and it is yet too soon to say if the new hypothesis will survive the criticism certain to be directed towards it, but the reputation of Prof. Arrhenius and his associates who are sponsors for it, will ensure the careful consideration of those competent to judge of its merits. It is said, however, that conservative astronomers like Professor Edward C. Pickering of Harvard, are expressing themselves as intensely interested in the generalizations from the light-pressure hypothesis, and it is not unlikely that before long we may have to revert to something like the original theory of grand old Isaac Newton, whose inscrutable insight, amounting almost to an instinctive knowledge of nature, will again be demonstrated.

Developments will be awaited with keen interest and will be duly reported in the columns of the News.

A MEETING THAT WILL BENEFIT THE STATE.

September 30, 1908.

All over California the "get-together" movement is becoming more evidenced with the passing of every day. In counties the people belonging to various commercial organizations are realizing the advantages of co-operation and they are forming county organizations, and these, in turn, are combining in district organizations. Regular meetings of these district organizations have done much to bring about a closer bond of sympathy and mutual interdependence among the various parts of the state. The idea of co-operation and mutual work is carried to its conclusion as a state building factor in the semi-annual meetings of all the Counties Committee of the California Promotion Committee, where all the counties have representatives who meet to talk over matters that mean much for state development.

At Los Angeles the tenth semi-annual meeting will be held on Saturday, November 14, and much of interest will be brought out in the discussion of the general theme of "The Tourist in California." Prominent speakers will be present, among them being F. H. Newell, director of the United States Reclamation service, who will tell of what has been done and what will be done in California by his department. Director Newell's address will be illustrated by his famous stereoscopic views.

A special train will carry the delegates from the interior valleys, the coast cities and the San Francisco Bay region and will leave San Francisco for Los Angeles via the Coast Line, on a daylight run over the Road of a thousand Wonders.

Everybody interested in promotion work for the state or for the locality should attend this meeting, and everybody is invited to take part in the open discussion which follows each paper that is read. The time of the meeting is at a season especially delightful in the southern part of the state and the special trains combined with the special train will make the trip one that will be both entertaining and instructive. The Secretaries' Association, which was formed at the meeting held at San Diego several years ago, composed of secretaries of commercial organizations, will hold its session on the same day, and will have matters of special interest to the secretaries for discussion. Every organization in the state should send its secretary to this meeting, for he will certainly learn much that will benefit his locality.

BULLETIN OF PROGRESS.

Published by the California Promotion Committee.

September 30, 1908.

Recognition of the great possibilities which lie in California for investors was given during the month of September, beginning with the bidding on San Francisco's municipal bonds, and the eagerness displayed by outside capitalists for all sorts of municipal and industrial bonds throughout the state. San Francisco's bonds were bid for fifteen times over, and immediately after their purchase by the brokers, they found sale in the East at good profit to the original purchasers.

Reports received by the California Promotion committee from other parts of California show that similar desire for good securities is evidenced. The issue of Los Angeles good road bonds was in immediate demand, and so great was the interest taken in them that many banks made strenuous efforts to get them.

Mining in California is receiving attention, and many new mines are being opened. In several counties old mines which have been closed, some for twenty-five years, have been reopened under modern methods, with good results. Heavy ore strikes are reported from Trinity, Siskiyou, El Dorado and Nevada counties and many Nevada miners are prospecting in the mountain counties of California.

Large numbers of small farmers are coming to the state, and there is good demand for small tracts. Efforts are being made to bring about large colonization of farmers from Kent, England, into the hop districts of the state.

Nine months before opening day of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition at Seattle the recording of building shows that six buildings are finished, six more are nearing completion, and the work of landscape gardening and road making is well advanced. Plans of the five buildings of the United States main building, Alaska, Hawaii, Philippines and fisheries are complete, and work on them will be started in October.

Twenty-five per cent. of the work on the California building is done, it being the only state building beside that of Oregon on which work is being done. Much interest is being taken in California in the exposition and as usual, the state will have one of the finest exhibits on the ground. Due appreciation of this fact has been given by the exposition management and it has set aside June 15, 1908, as California Promotion Committee day. The committee has received a special invitation to visit the exposition on this day and the invitation has been accepted. The committee will have a special train to carry its members and representatives of the various parts of the state to take part in the exercises of that day.

AND STILL THEY COME.

Some day—some sweet day—when we have chronicled the doings of all the social and literary clubs, of the missionary aid and fraternal societies; when we can give authentic accounts of the new coat of paint on the baker's wagon and the successful gilding of "I. O. O. F." on the new block; and before the religious-society editor is hopelessly immersed in high school athletics and the valley sports news, we are going to (or shall endeavor to) give a complete list of the newcomers "in our midst" since the "opening of the fall season," and so continue to do throughout the winter. For Glendale is growing faster proportionately than any other Southern California town, and we can prove it! And the proof, with names of newcomers, lists of new houses, with the financial part of it in prominence, real estate deals within a given time, improvements, etc. Houses and public buildings are fairly "rising in the night," they grow so fast (?) and new people are coming in every day. Time for summer lethargy is over, and days of winter activity in loyally advertising our city are at hand—even the buying of a few extras to send back East when your name appears in our columns—all this helps.

A newspaper publisher recently brought suit against forty-five men who would not pay their subscription and obtained judgment in each claim, says the Monrovia Messenger. Twenty-eight of them made affidavit that they owned no more than the law allowed, thus preventing the attachment of their property and bound over the sum of $300. All but six gave bail, and the six went to jail. The new postal law makes it larceny to take a paper and then refuse to pay for it.

Mrs. John Orth entertained the Christian Endeavor of the Christian and Presbyterian churches, Wednesday evening at the home of her mother, Mrs. J. H. Graham. A most enjoyable evening was spent and all voted Mrs. Orth a charming hostess.

Mrs. M. A. Chapin of Los Angeles was the week end guest of Miss Cora Hickman of "Palm Villa."

Mrs. Hattie Brewster is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George N. Lunn at their ranch home at Irwindale.

Alfred Englehardt of Central avenue returned the first of the week from a brief business trip to San Francisco.

Mrs. S. W. Lyman of Los Angeles was the week end guest of her daughter, Mrs. Joseph H. Webster, of "Ivy Nook."

The Altar society of the Catholic church gave a very pleasing and interesting entertainment at G. A. R. hall, Thursday evening.

Mrs. Hal H. Davenport was the guest of honor at a smart luncheon given by Mrs. Bert Miller at her home in Irwindale, Friday.

Judge George Melrose left for his mining properties, located at Rosemond, early Thursday morning, where he will spend several days.

Budde Scheu of "Los Flores," is spending the week touring Southern California, as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher of Los Angeles, in their automobile.

E. A. Bennett has bought an interest in the grocery store on Glendale avenue, Tropic, now conducted by J. W. Dutton. The firm will carry a full line of groceries, etc.

Mrs. Hattie Brewster and Miss Blanche Davenport spent Saturday and Sunday at Long Beach as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George N. Lunn.

Mrs. W. W. Imler arrived from Gilman, Ia., the first of the week and will spend the winter months as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Anna Imler Smith, at "Quinta Ana," on Riverdale Drive.

Mrs. Rosa Leech, secretary to the Republican League, and her daughter, Miss Dorothy Leech, will occupy Mr. James P. Scott's bungalow on Glendale avenue during the winter months.

Mrs. Will H. Blaine entertained as her guest the past week Dr. Mattie Fitzpatrick of San Francisco, who was en route to Pomona for an extended visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Armstrong.

John T. Kirkham of Central avenue departed for Winchester, Kas., the latter part of the week, where he will remain six weeks or two months. Mr. Kirkham has extensive farming interests in Kansas.

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Hal H. Davenport, Mrs. M. Mollere and Allen Davenport drove to Long Beach in Mr. Davenport's touring car, where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Lunn.

Wednesday morning Mr. and Mrs. George N. Lunn arrived from Irwindale and were the guests of their daughter, Mrs. Hal H. Davenport of Glendale avenue, until Thursday, when they left for a few days' sojourn at Long Beach.

Mrs. Anna Imler Smith entertained with a dinner party at her home, "Quinta Ana," Monday. Guests included Miss Carrie Stewart of Martinsville, Ill., Mrs. Helen Carter, Miss Tilla Oleson, Miss Laura Moore, Miss Cora Taylor and Miss Hazel Carter of Los Angeles.

John Lee Kirkham of Park avenue having accepted a position on the Laguna dam, left for that place the latter part of the week, where he will establish his office. Mrs. Kirkham will spend several weeks visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Makcom, when she will join Mr. Kirkham at his present location.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Thompson, who have been residents of Tropic for the past fifteen years, or more, are preparing to leave for Yuma, Ariz., where they will remain during the winter season. Mr. Thompson and family are regarded as among the pioneers of Tropic and their friends here are loath to have them leave, as Mr. and Mrs. Thompson and Miss Adaline Thompson have always aided very materially in church, school and social affairs in Tropic.

MISS CHANDLER ENTERTAINED.

Miss Flora May Chandler, patriotic instructor of N. P. Banks' W. R. C., was most pleasantly surprised by the officers and members of the corps, Friday afternoon, at the regular semi-monthly meeting, with a package shower. A huge laundry basket was called into service to contain the many packages and parcels which were presented Miss Chandler, whose marriage this fall to Mr. Edward Weston will be one of the social events of the valley.

"QUILTING PARTY."

Sewing bees and "quilting parties" seem to predominate this season in Tropic society, for scarcely a day passes but that two or three are given in local society.

Mrs. A. W. Collins entertained with a "quilting party" and course luncheon at her home on Brand boulevard, Tuesday. Three handsome comforters were completed, following the discussion of the luncheon. Mrs. Collins was assisted by her sister, Mrs. Ernest J. Morgan, and the guests included Mrs. F. C. Richardson, Mrs. M. E. Brown, Mrs. W. H. Halleck, Mrs. John Hobbs, Mrs. John A. Logan, Mrs. Andrew Stephenson, Mrs. Joseph H. Webster, Mrs. Edward M. Lynch, Mrs. W. A. Thompson, Mrs. Hal H. Davenport and Mrs. Charles A. Barker.

REPUBLICAN MEETING AT TROPICO.

Mr. Frank G. Tyrrell addressed a Republican meeting at Logan's hall, Tropic, last Saturday evening, and the audience, although not large, was well repaid for coming out. Mr. Tyrrell is one of the best speakers on the public platform. He is not only extremely witty and eloquent, but he delivers sledge-hammer blows of logic which carry conviction. Mr. R. W. Prigum was present and spoke at some length explaining his views on matters of particular interest. He does not dodge the issues, but states explicitly that he will regard as mandatory the expressed wishes of the voters in regard to saloons, and that the voters will be called together in the event of his election to select their own roadmasters in the respective districts, which will be a distinct innovation and certainly a step towards giving the people self-government. Mr. Catterm of South Pasadena also spoke. Mr. A. M. Watson, county committeeman, presided.

RECEPTION AT PARSONAGE.

The members of the congregation of the First Methodist Episcopal church tendered the pastor, Rev. J. H. Henry, and Mrs. Henry, a reception at the parsonage Wednesday evening. Rev. and Mrs. A. W. McConnell of the First Presbyterian church were present as representatives of the Presbyterian church. Rev. McConnell, in a brief address, on behalf of the Presbyterian church and congregation, welcomed Rev. and Mrs. Henry upon their return to Tropic. A. L. Chandler, in behalf of the congregation of the First Methodist Episcopal church, gladly welcomed their dearly beloved pastor's return.

Robert Taylor spoke words of good cheer and Christian fellowship, as the representative of the Methodist Sabbath school, where Rev. Henry's enthusiasm and influence is as keenly appreciated as in the church work.

The Marple quartet composed of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Marple, Miss Fannie Alma Marple and Joseph Marple, Jr., rendered two vocal numbers. Mrs. F. W. Axe was heard in a most clever reading. Mrs. Charles L. Peckham and Mrs. U. M. Menzies gave a vocal number.

LEITCH-ERSKINE.

The marriage ceremony of Miss Frances Erskine and Mr. George Emerson Leitch, of San Pedro, was solemnized at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Katherine Erskine, on Moore avenue, Sunday afternoon.

The rooms throughout were most prettily decorated in white and green. The bridal party stood under a canopy of green and white during the reading of the marriage service by Rev. A. W. McConnell of the First Presbyterian church of Tropic.

The bride wore a gown of white swiss, elaborately trimmed in Valenciennes lace, a handsome pearl brooch, the gift of the groom, was the only ornament worn by this sweet, charming bride, who carried a bouquet of maiden hair ferns and bride roses. Miss Maude Moore rendered the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin. Mr. and Mrs. Leitch, after a wedding trip, spent in the northern part of the state, will be at their home in San Pedro after November 15th. The guests attending the marriage ceremony were Mrs. Jennie Leitch, the groom's mother, Mr. and Mrs. James Leitch, Miss Constance Leitch and Mr. A. G. Leitch. Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Tilley, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Erskine, J. B. Erskine, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Raymond, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Thorne, Mr. and Mrs. M. Cristler, Mrs. M. M. Elliott, Mrs. Mary Holcomb, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley H. Bullis, Mrs. Nellie Le Sage, Mrs. A. W. McConnell, Mrs. Louis Ross, Mrs. Sarah Edwards, Miss Mary Doyle, Miss Cassa Ross, Miss Mattie Lynde, Miss Daphne Tilley, Miss Katherine Tilley, Miss Mamie Thorne, Miss Mary Holcomb, Miss Margaret Tilley, Miss Marjorie Edwards, Dr. J. Franc Haight, Messrs. Norman Tilley, S. B. Thorne, Nell Erskine, C. Mitchell, John Garner.

THE WEST GLENDALE SCHOOL.

School enthusiasm and unity of action culminated in reward on Monday, October 5th, when pupils of the West Glendale School district (and some others) gathered for the formal opening of the handsome new $16,000 school building built this summer upon the old school site.

The schoolhouse is modern in every detail and taxpayers and pupils alike are immensely proud of it. There are eight large rooms, four below and four above, and a large basement, a fine feature being the generous width of the halls, making crowding in case of fire, accidents, etc., impossible. The drinking fountains in the halls are of the latest approved style that forbids the lodgment of microbes and furnishes fresh, cool water in continuous supply. A very commendable feature is noticed in the number and size of windows, the importance of fresh air and light being duly considered.

On the first morning enrollment was 48, 42 and 36, respectively. Over the building was raised the handsome new flag, a gift to the school, and Mrs. Alexander Mitchell of North Glendale furnished inspiring music on the splendid new piano.

Following short addresses by the principal and members of the school board, Mrs. Daniel Campbell of "Ard E'en," sang little songs appropriate to the occasion and very pleasing to the children especially. In a wide hallway Mrs. Jesse Stine presided over the punch bowl and the refreshments. During the afternoon programs and classwork were planned under the supervision of Mrs. Frank G. Taylor, principal. It is expected the attendance will be increased by the end of the month.

IMPROVEMENTS AT THE GLENDALE SANITARIUM.

Although there are a number of guests and patients at the Sanitarium now it is yet the dull season there as elsewhere and Manager Wessels is improving the opportunity which the comparatively small number of inmates now in the institution affords, to make many improvements to the buildings, particularly on the interior. The whole of the inside of the building has been repainted and decorated and is now in a condition which is an improvement upon newness. The dining room, particularly, has been thoroughly renovated. The floor has been painted as well as the side walls and ceiling and the furniture also has been retouched, making it a most attractive room. The gymnasium, which is also used as a chapel, an audience room forty by sixty, has been plastered with the effect of adding very much to its attractive appearance. A long series of steps has been constructed uniting the main building with the gymnasium. Not on the building only are great improvements noticeable. The north end of the spacious grounds have been cleared of cow yards and henneries and is to be converted into an attractive private park, upon the ornamentation of which the landscape gardener will begin work as soon as the wet season makes it practicable to do so.

WANTED—GAS.

There's no use trying to hide the fact any longer—we need gas. Not the kind we rather overwork in this community, though it is inflammable enough, but we can't cook our meals with it and the newly arrived are not pleasantly impressed with it just at first. When a prospective home-builder blows in here with a speculative air and inquires among other things "Do you use gas" (not referring to the paper) we get awfully tired of saying sweetly "Not now, but soon." A restive Easterner is much more impressed by what we have than with what we say we are going to have, whether it is a new railroad or a coat of paint for the NEWS office or gas.

AT THE COUNTRY CLUB.

On Monday afternoon the "Thin Monday" will be in the hands of Mrs. L. C. Brand, Mrs. Thornton and Mrs. Sargent, and they will entertain women of the Auxiliary and invited guests of Glendale and Los Angeles. A Japanese game will be the amusement provided.
